

Picking Your Brain

We are always endeavoring to produce topics which will generate thought and discussion amongst the servants of the leaders of the Church and amongst those leaders themselves. To date, there has been little feedback on the things we've written and we would like to hear your thoughts on the matter. For January, we would like for you to submit your thoughts about a recent post, a question or a topic you'd like to hear more about to be addressed on this page. Later, we hope to present some these questions (anonymously if you desire) and answer queries received during the month of January. This will serve to promote dialogue and interaction in this growing relationship between us and those who visit our pages.

They can be questions about our vestments in CECO or the tiers of leadership. They can be related to the School of Adjutancy and our endeavors for 2013. They can be as simple as "What is an Overseer?" or whatever you wish, the sky is the limit. There is no "dumb" question mind you, we are all learning and it is the charge of the adjutant to be ever teaching, learning and observing. Based on your feedback, we will pull questions or comments to discuss in the months to come.

So again, if there is a matter on which you'd like clarification on, a discussion you would like to have or a comment to be made, go to our "contact us" page or simply post in the provided space below this text and we will compile and address as time and space will allow next month.

We look forward to hearing from you soon. Continue in the Grace of the Almighty.
